

Training Sessions

Use Channels to collect and share training videos and pre-recorded training sessions.

Challenge

Organizations regularly conduct webinars and live training sessions, however schedules do not always align and not everyone can attend. Even if the session was recorded it typically isn't placed in an easily accessible location for future reference.

Approach

Create channels for capturing training sessions and webinars so all team members can view and reference in the future.

Benefits

- Recorded videos can easily be uploaded into a channel for sharing
- Teams can build a library to ensure that training sessions are captured for future reference
- People can provide feedback and direct comments allowing collaboration on the training video or session

Applications

- New Hire Training Videos
- Product or Service Training Videos
- Recorded Webinars

Industry Example

Channels allows a well-known financial institution to share training videos and pre-recorded training sessions to expedite training and accelerate new hire ramp time.
